

Europe's leading manufacturer of super-premium pet food is looking for YOU. As a global player, we supply the worldwide pet trade with high-quality, innovative and sustainable products.

Landguth is firmly rooted in East Frisia and as nature-loving and down-to-earth as the people in this region.

We are looking for talented and motivated people to join our team who are ready to develop their potential in a dynamic and challenging work environment. At Landguth, YOU have the chance to become part of a global company that does not forget its roots and is committed to the community.

Sales Manager USA (m/w/d)

You will be in charge for...

- identify and approach potential customers in the USA market
- manage sales projects from conception to timely delivery
- build new sustainable customer relationships and open up new sales channels
- analyze markets and competitive data
- participate in national and international exhibitions

You will fit in with us, if you....

- you have experience of minimum 5 years in sales
- are experienced in the petfood business and have a strong network to the retailers in the USA
- you are also willing to travel
- you are a petfood enthusiast

You will benefit from...

- a long-term employment relationship in an expanding company with prospects.
- bonus payments and a performance-related remuneration
- the possibility for your individual employee development and qualification, so that you can develop professionally and personally.
- working in a motivated and friendly team that is characterized by an appreciative management culture and flat hierarchies
- numerous development and promotion opportunities within our company discounts from numerous partners and brands.
- the possibility to work in a sustainable company, which takes responsibility for the environment and already produces with 100% green electricity.

Join us and be part of our mission for a sustainable future.

Jetzt bewerben

Contact

Get your own impression of Landguth Heimtiernahrung GmbH on https://landguth.de/