

Europe's leading manufacturer of super-premium pet food is looking for YOU. As a global player, we are supplying high-quality, innovative and sustainable petfood worldwide. Landguth is firmly rooted in East Frisia and as nature-loving and down-to-earth as the people in this region.

We are looking for talented and motivated people who are ready to develop their potential in a dynamic and challenging working environment. At Landguth, YOU have the chance to become part of a global company that does not forget its roots and is committed to the community.

Sales Manager Southern Europe / Middle East (m/f/d)

You will be in charge for...

- bringing the products of Europe's No. 1 Premium Petfood Company to the Southern European / Middle Eastern Market
- developing, implementing and leading of Sales Strategies
- Customer Relationship Management
- Collaboration with our german Sales Team

You will match with us, if you...

- have proofed experience as a sales talent
- are experienced in the petfood business
- have a very good command of English
- are willing to travel
- known to be persuasive and enthusiastic

You will benefit from...

- a long-term employment relationship in an expanding company with prospects.
- bonus payments and a performance-related remuneration
- our home office concept, which enables you to flexibly arrange your working hours and optimally combine your professional and private life.
- the possibility for your individual development and qualification
- working in a motivated and friendly team that is characterized by an appreciative management culture and flat hierarchies
- the possibility to work in a sustainable company, which takes responsibility for the environment and already produces with 100% green electricity.

Jetzt bewerben

Visit our website and get your own impression